

Advice from the Tradition

October 22-24, 2013

Bodh Gaya

---

---

Day Three: Concluding Remarks from Khenchen Pema Sherab

(Speech in Tibetan, Translated into English)

---

In these past three days I felt that there was a very open and lively discussion between the scholars, lotsawas, translators, as well as Kyabje Rinpoches. I think the result is that we have to see in the long run and particularly like those individuals who are very much involved in this project. I would like to remind them that in this kind of very big project, one should have patience. If we can, we also need to prolong our life in this project in order to complete it.

As envisioned by the two Rinpoches, Dzongsar Khyentse Rinpoche and Tulku Chokyi Nyima Rinpoche, as well as all of the translators, scholars who are involved in this project, my sincere hope and prayer is that, since the project that has been taken is for the longevity, preservation and dissemination of the scriptural as well as the realization teachings of the Lord Buddha which is beneficial for all sentient beings, it is the responsibility of all of us who have heard the Mahāyāna teachings. The purpose of Mahāyāna is to benefit others, so keeping this in mind, I sincerely hope and pray: Please make all possible efforts to make this project a success.

From my side, I will also render all my possible support in this regard. I also request all to participate and to contribute in whatever way possible, in order to make this dream come true.